“ I am so sorry to here about your mother, she was one of my favorite teachers. I had her in kindergarten in 1971-1972 year. One Saturday I spent the whole day with her when I was in her class and we baked cookies and looked at pictures. When I graduated from high school she came by my house and brought me a photo album of pictures she had taken when I was in her class and had saved all those years which I still have. I will always treasure the memories I have of her. Several years back I went by and saw her and bought all four of her books that she had written we had the best time just catching up on old memories. She was one amazing person. Prayers for your family.

“ Louise made a point to introduce herself and her church to me when I first joined the faculty at Keystone. She remained a good friend after she retired, and we shared many hours talking about "our kids" and families from Keystone. We continued to correspond after she moved to Knoxville. She made a wonderful, caring impression on everyone she taught, their families, and those she taught alongside. I will miss her. Holly Johnson
